

For the past two years, most public schools in the U.S. have provided free meals to students. But that federal pandemic relief program has ended. With the start of the 2022-2023 school year, eligible students will need to enroll in free or reduced-price lunch programs, and others must pay.

Please be sure you send lunch money to school with your child(ren) or maintain funds on their School Payment Portal.
