Soon we will all begin a well-earned Holiday Break. Please enjoy these pre-Christmas highlights of recent activities and achievements by our Johnstown-Monroe students and staff as we all prepare for an exciting 2025, and all the New Year promises.

I also encourage you to please take the coming holidays to enjoy your time with family and friends, as well as to rest, renew, and reflect upon all we have achieved as a team, and all we will make happen in the coming year.

All my best holiday wishes to you and yours,

Community Connections

Johnstown-Monroe School District administrators were given a Dec. 5 special tour of the historic Cornell School one-room schoolhouse located on the Johnstown-Monroe campus. The school, which dates to 1886, opens its doors to students from around Licking County and beyond for the unique opportunity to experience education as it was in the early 1900s. After their tour, J-M District leaders held an administration meeting in the Cornell basement meeting area/museum.
