

Western Licking County Education & Workforce Forum, 6 p.m. Feb. 26, 2024

INVITATION

The future is now. Western Licking County is the beating heart of the Silicon Heartland.

The Johnstown-Monroe Education & Workforce Community Forum scheduled for 6 p.m. on Feb. 26, 2024, provides a timely and important opportunity to bring together tomorrow's employers and their prospective future workforce.

This event will focus on current and emerging career skills required to meet the needs of a quickly changing occupational terrain already emerging within our communities.

Confirmed participants include Ohio Lt. Governor Jon Husted, and representatives from Intel, Gilbane, and Amazon Web Services, as well as a number of other distinguished employers who will be present to discuss occupational opportunities that will soon transform all of Central Ohio.

Students and administrators from COTC, C-TEC, Johnstown-Monroe, Licking Heights, Northridge, and the Southwest Licking Local Schools are also scheduled to participate.

WORKFORCE FORUM AGENDA

6 p.m. Johnstown Performing Arts Center, 401 S. Oregon Street, Johnstown, OH

6 p.m. Introductory remarks and introduction by Dr. Philip H. Wagner, Johnstown-Monroe Superintendent, of participating employers, as well as participating school district leaders.

6:10 p.m. Keynote remarks by Lt. Gov. Jon Husted

6:20 p.m. Dr. John Berry, COTC President & Stephanie Priestnal, C-TEC Asst. Superintendent

6:30 p.m. Roundtable Discussion of Educational & Employment needs featuring several attending employers, moderated by Dr. Wagner

6:55 p.m. Attendees to begin circulating to business participant tables set up in the gymnasium of Johnstown Middle School

INVITEES/PARTICIPATING EMPLOYERS

- Amgen
- Amatrol
- Amazon Web Services
- Bechtel
- C-TEC
- COTC
- Gilbane
- Intel
- Licking Memorial Health Systems
- Turner Construction Company